Farm Leaders Unwilling To Forecast Outcome; Congress May Have To Act If Controls Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wheat farmers in 36 states voted today on whether to accept controls in 1956, in a referendum which could reopen the whole touchy problem of price supports in Congress.

Plane Attack Casts Shadow Over U.N. Meet

Final Session Set Sunday; Truman Supports Talks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Soviet MIG attack on an American Navy plane over the Bering Sea cast a shadow over the U.N.'s 10th anniversary session today as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Russia's V. M. Molotov and other top diplomats headed for home.

On instructions of President Eisenhower, Dulles Friday called Molotov's attention to the incident. Molotov, who had been plugging a vigorous Soviet peace offensive here, said he knew nothing of the affair but would investigate.

Meanwhile, aides of the Big Four leaders worked on a peace declaration to wind up the weeklong anniversary meeting.

AFTER FIVE days of speeches, the 60 delegations took a day off for private business and sightseeing. All that remained was the closing ceremony Sunday afternoon at which it was hoped, by some at least, that a "Declaration of San Francisco" would emerge as the final act.

The round of formal speeches wound up Friday night with an address by former President Harry S. Truman, who indicated he warmly supported President Eisenhower's decision to take part in talks with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure.

Pumpkin Show Officers Set To Continue

The Pumpkin Show Committee at a meeting Friday night re-elected top officers and added four new trustees.

The big celebration this year will open on Oct. 19 and close at midnight Oct. 22. Bob Colville, perennial "Mr. Pumpkin Show", has already launched plans designed to hold the big show true to its tradition—"bigger and better."

Re-elected as officers of the Pumpkin Show committee were: Mayor Bob Hedges, president; Ben Gordon, vice-president; Ned Dresbach, secretary, and Colville, treasurer.

The four new trustees are: Lewis Cook, Wes Edstrom, C. O. Leist and Stan Stevens.

would be necessary if controls are rejected, to prevent a drop in the support price of $1.19 a bushel.

Under controls, the floor would be $1.81 a bushel but farmers could sell only the amount of wheat they can grow on 55,000,000 acres. That amount is the same as this year's crop, supported at $2.06 a bushel, but 38,000,000 acres below the postwar peak.

THE LIMITATION was proposed under farm law to prevent increasing the crop surplus. The government already has $2,500,000,000 invested in surplus. Wheat acquired under price supports, and available supplies are sufficient for a year's needs.

Two-thirds of the farmers voting must approve the controls to make them effective for next year. This year's limitation was approved by a 73.3 per cent vote.

Never before have growers rejected controls for wheat, but this year the program has run into sharp criticism in some areas because of farmer dissatisfaction with the reduction in income from wheat.

ANTICIPATING possible defeat of the controls, Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said he would be ready to propose a substitute program to Congress to attack the problem of surplus supplies and reduced grower returns. He did not say, however, what the substitute would be.

Officials said that upwards of 1,000,000 farmers were eligible to vote. They forecast that about half that number would turn out at polling places established by state and county farmer committees. Polls close at 5 o'clock local time. An unofficial canvass of the votes will be made tonight.

Apartment Building Goes Up Fast

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Four days ago Madison Towers was two stories high. Today it was nearly nine stories tall and still inching up. By tonight it will be 10 stories.

That's mighty fast construction of an apartment building that will have 159 units and interior parking for 100 cars. Normally it would take three to five months.

The speed is due to the slip-form method of concrete pouring. It's a complex continuous pour that has never before been tried in this country for multi-story dwellings.

With concrete being poured 24 hours a day, Madison Towers is pushing upward at an average of nine inches an hour. The still wet walls below steam as they dry in the sun.

The method employs a massive form—or mold—which shapes the fresh concrete into the 8½-inch-thick outer and inside walls. The form, about four feet high, rests on 210 synchronized hydraulic jacks.

The basement and first two stories were built in the conventional manner and serve as the foundation or base for the slipform and jack rods.

As the form is filled with fresh concrete, the jacks crawl up steel rods set in the foundation. The oiled sides of the massive form slips smoothly up the walls. Extensions to the steel jack rods are added as needed.

Door From B-47 Found On Farm

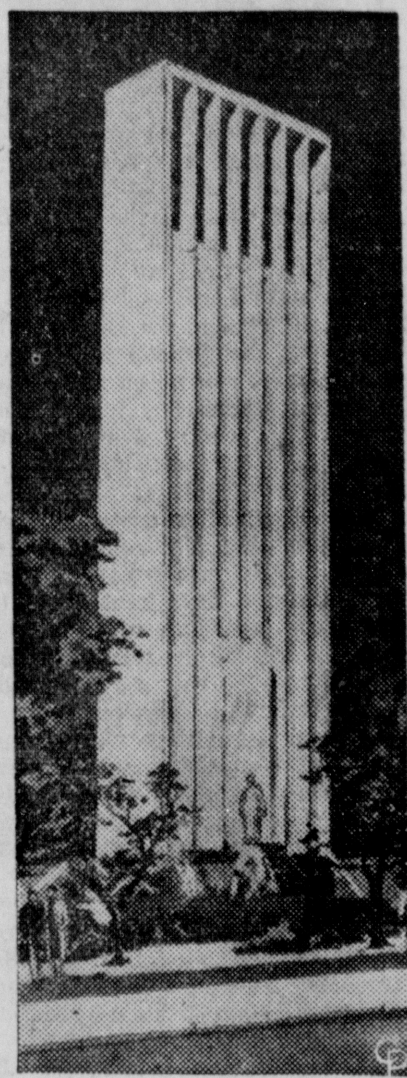

A door from a B-47 Strato-jet airplane was found in a Pickaway County potato patch.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Plum said the discovery was made Friday afternoon on the Bruce Stevenson farm on Route 56 between Routes 22 and 104. He added that personnel from Lockbourne Air Force Base had come and taken the door back to the base.

LAFB authorities could not be reached Saturday morning for further information concerning the incident. Last year, a door from a B-47 was found near Little Walnut Creek just off of Route 23 north of here.

19 Die In Crash

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian air force headquarters announced that 15 air force and our army men were killed today when two Dakota planes collided near Agra and went down in flames.

THIS IS AN artist's conception of the marble bell tower that would be built at the foot of Capitol Hill, Washington, in memory of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio. President Eisenhower and former President Herbert Hoover have asked Congress to accept the memorial, a carillon expected to cost about $1,000,000, to be raised from public donations. The tower, containing 25 bells, is a "simple marble shaft rising 100 feet."

Allowances May Be Voted

Committee Makes Recommendations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of Congress, who voted themselves a 50 per cent pay raise earlier this year, are considering some further increases in the emoluments of their offices.

They soon may hike their allowances for traveling, for postage, for stationery for long distance calls, and for telegrams, and give themselves each a $12,131-a-year research assistant.

The extra allowances have been recommended by the House administration committee for inclusion in the forthcoming legislative appropriation bill. The committee also has recommended pay raises for most congressional employees.

The recommendations apply only to House members and House employees, in keeping with the time-honored policy that each branch of Congress handles its own "housekeeping" business. Senatorial employees, and probably senators themselves, will be provided for when the appropriation bill reaches the Senate.

Two Rescued From Desert

NEEDLES, Calif. (AP)—A jeep excursion on the burning Mojave Desert ended with one man dead, another missing and two badly dehydrated.

James R. Thompson, 70, of Joshua Tree, Calif., was reported dead. Lyle W. Robertson, 49, and Chester R. Bunker, 67, were picked up by an Air Force helicopter and flown to Needles Hospital. They were suffering from thirst.

Missing, and given scant chance of surviving in the 120 degree heat, is Calvert Wilson, 45, also of Joshua Tree.

SOVIET FIGHTER PLANES DAMAGE U. S. AIRCRAFT

Low Bid Entered On Memorial Lake

Contract Will Be Let Next Week; Completion Date Is Sept. 1, 1956

Nix, Inc., a Columbus firm, is the apparent low bidder on Pickaway County's long-awaited Memorial Lake project.

Sealed bids were opened in Columbus late Friday. It is expected that the contract will be let early next week and that work will begin almost immediately.

The Nix bid was revealed to be $211,732 as against an estimate of $230,000. The contract must be awarded by next Thursday, at which time the legislature's appropriation for the project would expire.

Completion date for the project has been set for Sept. 1, 1956. Specifications call for a "revision" of the dam at the lake site to make a depth of 47 feet at that point. The rest of the lake will average 23 feet in depth for the 146 acres of the project.

THEREFORE, seven years of confusion and debate after the idea was first launched, Memorial Lake will finally become a reality. During that time, the project has been kicked around like a political football with countless delays.

At one time, the project was scheduled to cover 161 acres. Later, reports had the area reduced to 55 acres. The depth of the lake also was a subject for argument.

Finances for the project provided material for political as well as private interests. At one time, cost of the project was estimated at nearly $500,000.

The lake—at times referred to as "Lake Folly"—has been championed by the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen Association.

Rumors in connection with the project are still swirling. One is that there will be a rowboat concession at the lake, with boats available for rental to fishermen and to those who merely want a leisurely cruise on the lake.

ANOTHER RUMOR is that the area around the lake will have picnic areas, complete with charcoal pits and park benches. Yet another.

Five Soldiers Freed By Reds

HONG KONG (AP)—Peiping radio said today arrangements have been completed for the departure of the three American and two Belgian soldiers who changed their minds about staying in Red China. It said they "can now leave immediately."

The five soldiers who chose to stay with the Communists after the Korean War have been identified as Lewis W. Griggs of Jacksonville, Tex., O. G. Bell of Olympia, Wash., William A. Cowart of Dalton, Ga., and the two Belgians, Roger Devriendt and Louis Verdyk.

Meeting Ends

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Assembly of Rainbow, a Masonic group of girls between the ages of 12 and 20, concludes its annual four-day convention today. Highlighting the final session, to be attended by some 2,500, will be installation of officers and crowning of the group's queen, Helen Perry of Cincinnati.

Polio Immunization Held Up

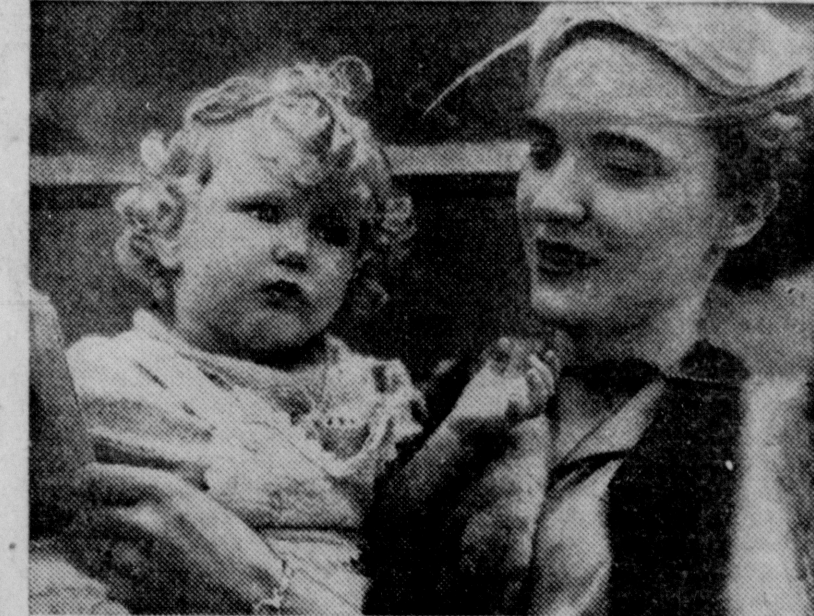

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the peak polio season closing in, all signs pointed today to a continued lull in the immunization of school children against the paralyzing disease.

The stiffer safety standards required in making and testing the Salk vaccine appeared to be the reason.

Dr. Hart Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said in New York Friday the Foundation's program to inoculate all first and second graders is "at a standstill until we can get some more vaccine."

A spokesman for the government's National Institutes of Health said no more releases of vaccine supplies are expected for at least a week or 10 days.

Beyond that, a check of the six pharmaceutical firms licensed to produce the new vaccine indicated sizeable fresh supplies may not be available until mid-July. And it looked as though full scale distribution of the vaccine might not come until August or later. The polio season hits its peak in August.

Negotiator For U.S. Steel Optimistic On Contract Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Working against a strike deadline of midnight next Thursday, U. S. Steel Corp.'s top negotiator arranged a meeting today with President David J. McDonald of the CIO United Steelworkers.

John A. Stephens, a vice president of U. S. Steel, said the session would be confined to a small group from both sides. He expressed optimism although the union quickly rejected the corporation's first proposal to boost wages about 10 cents an hour.

Steelworkers now average $2.33 an hour. McDonald says the industry can afford to come up with a bigger increase because it's booming.

Sen. Knowland Attacks Stand Of Nehru

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) today accused India's Prime Minister Nehru of becoming "a broker for Soviet foreign policy."

Knowland, the Senate minority leader, said in an interview the Indian leader adopted a "Communist viewpoint" in a recent joint declaration of the Indian and Russian governments after Nehru's visit to Moscow.

"It appears that Nehru, instead of being neutral, has permitted himself to get into the position where he has become a broker for Soviet foreign policy," Knowland said.

At Moscow, Nehru joined with the Russians in a declaration of mutual aims which called for attaining the "legitimate rights" of Communist China in relation to Formosa and admission of the Peiping regime to the U. N.

Seven Of 11 Navy Crewmen Hurt In Attack

Patrol Plane Crashes And Burns After Being Hit By MIG

WASHINGTON (AP)—An unprovoked attack by two Russian jet fighters forced a U. S. Navy Alaskan patrol plane to crash land with injury to seven of its 11 crewmen, the United States announced Friday.

Lt. Gen. Joseph H. Atkinson, commander of all armed forces in Alaska, said at Anchorage that three crewmen were "wounded slightly by shell fragments."

U. S. officials said the attack occurred Wednesday over international waters between Alaska and Siberia. The Navy P2V5 Neptune plane crash landed and burned on American-held St. Lawrence Island, in the Bering Sea about 100 miles from the Siberian coast.

Although the shooting occurred Wednesday, announcement of the Russian attack was delayed two days while President Eisenhower conferred by telephone with State and Defense Department officials, and Secretary of State Dulles discussed it with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in San Francisco.

Molotov was quoted that he knew nothing of the incident but would investigate and report back. He and Dulles met in a private room of the hall where both are attending the 10th anniversary celebration of the U. N.

THE FIRST announcement of the incident, and of those steps already taken, came from Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, at Whitefield, N. H., during the President's New England tour. Hagerty called the attack "inexplicable and unwarranted."

The Navy Department announced that two jet fighters made the attack. However, one of the American crewmen, interviewed at Kodiak, Alaska, spoke of only one attacking plane.

The incident took on added diplomatic importance in the light of Russia's current peace offensive in advance of the scheduled July 18 Big Four summit conference.

Congress members were quick to point that out as they sounded an angry protest.

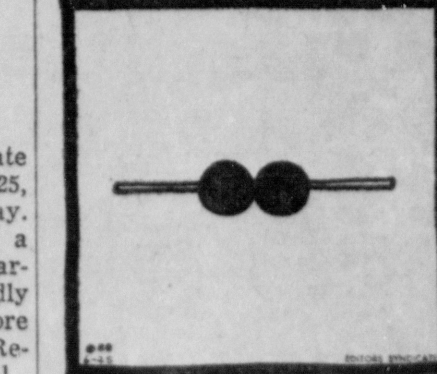

"Unless we get assurances that the attack was not premeditated, we should not go to that conference," said Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.).

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) commented that "this is an incredible way to start a peace conference."

This Droodle makes me sad because it reminds me of the plight of the Lollipop. No matter what happens they always wind up taking a licking. Now that I think of it that joke makes me sadder than the plight of the Lollipop so I'll just drop the subject and mention a few alternate titles that were suggested by Right Thinking friends, Leonard Stern, top writer for Jackie Gleason, said it looked like "A Pair of Sun Glasses for a Man With No Nose" and Bill Shelley said it was "An Unlucky Spaghetti Behind Two Eight Balls." Jerry Lester insisted that it was "A Housewife Pointing a Shotgun at a Salesman Through a Mail Slot." Goes to show how a Droodle can stir up more difference of opinion than a speech by Nehru.

—all of whom escaped with varying but minor burns and wounds —returned to Kodiak Friday. Lt. Richard H. Fischer of Pittsburgh, Pa., the pilot, reported there was no opportunity to avoid or return the gunfire.

He said the bullets ripped through the left wing and fuselage, "injuring three men" just as the gunner, Aviation Ordnance Man Donald E. Sonnek of Minnesota Lake, Minn., reported sighting an airplane.

The bullets ripped holes in the wing and set it afire, others tore chunks out of the fuselage and struck three men or whizzed past the heads of the others.

The Russian MIG, so identified by Sonnek, made only one pass and disappeared.

FLAMES ATE steadily at the wing, Fischer said, and Aviation Ordnance Man Martin E. Berg, who had been struck by bullets on the left side of his back, kept reporting on its condition despite his wound.

First aid was given Berg and the other two men who had been hit. They were Ensign David G. Asard of Terryville, Conn., hit on the left hand, and Aviation Technician Edward Benko, Chicago, hit on the left arm.

Meanwhile, the plane's position and condition were radioed to the home base at Kodiak and the plane was brought in for a landing on tundra at St. Lawrence Island.

"Our bomb bay tank exploded half way through our landing," Fischer said.

"The flames were high and the men were burned on their faces and hands as they escaped through emergency exits. One man broke an ankle diving out of the plane."

Local Delegates Selected For Kiwanian Convention

The Circleville Kiwanis club had its spokesmen all set today for the 40th annual convention of the club's international membership.

Kiwanis International will assemble from all over the globe in Cleveland Sunday for the five-day gathering. More than 13,000 Kiwanians and their wives are expected to attend what promises to be the largest convention in the organization's history.

Serving as an added magnet for the big turnout will be Ted Lewis, Circleville's famed maestro, and a list of outstanding speakers.

Delegates from Circleville will be Harold Clifton, local club president, and William Ammer, vice-president. Alternates will be Richard Penn and Tom Thorne, local secretary and treasurer respectively. A number of other members of the Circleville club hoped to travel to Cleveland for the festivities.

THE CONVENTION will be held in Cleveland's municipal auditorium as the high spot in Kiwanis' 40th anniversary year. The first convention of Kiwanis International was also held in Cleveland. At that time, the organization boasted 16 clubs. Today, there are well over 4,000 Kiwanis clubs in the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii.

Principal speakers at the meeting, in addition to Kiwanis International President Don E. Engdahl, will be Ezra Taft Benson, U. S. secretary of agriculture; A.D.P. Heeney, Canadian ambassador to the United States, and General Nathan F. Twining, chief of staff, United States Air Force.

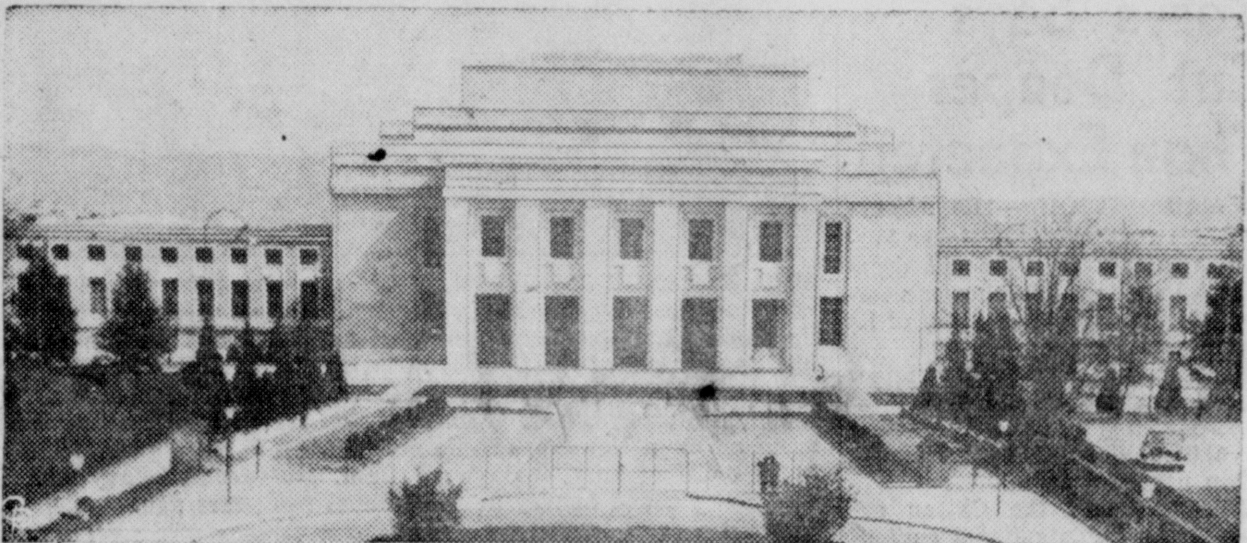

Dr. Reuben K. Youngdahl, pastor of the Mount Olivet Lutheran Church in Minneapolis, will deliver the opening address of the convention Sunday evening. Mrs. Kathryn Metz, well-known journalist and staff member of the Quaker Oats Public Relations Department, will speak to the women on Monday.

Wednesday morning will see the high point of the five-day convention when the delegates elect the officers for the coming year. The new president of Kiwanis International, who will be selected at that time, will assume his duties on August 1. The two vice-presidents, treasurer and six international trustees will also be chosen at the Wednesday election.

Wednesday evening the President's Reception and Ball will be held in the Cleveland municipal auditorium. Band Leader Ted Lewis and a company of professional actors will entertain at the ball, as will several Cleveland entertainment groups—the Highlanders, a Scotch Kiltie band, Ukrainian Folk Dancers, and the Orpheus Male Chorus.

Another feature of the huge convention will be the Tuesday evening district dinners. Each of these will be a miniature convention banquet in itself. They will be held simultaneously throughout the Cleveland area.

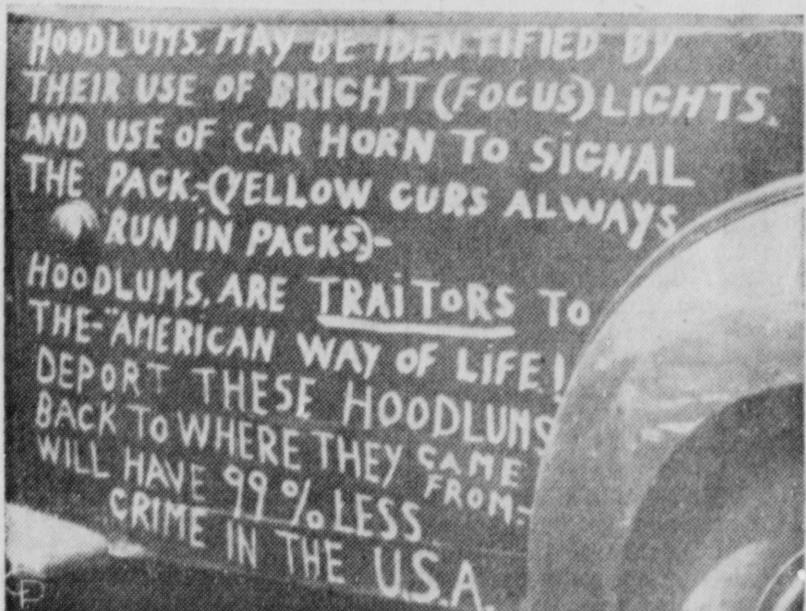

Direction of the Cleveland convention program is in the hands of Jackson B. Raney, Indianapolis, Indiana educator, who is a vice president of Kiwanis International.

Russia formally agreed to the top-level meeting with the U.S., Britain and France, opening the way for the first East-West conference of heads of countries since 1945. At the same time the Reds served notice they would oppose any discussion at the parley of Communist eastern Europe or of "international Communist activities." (International)

Orchids Go Along With Food Bargains

Bargain-wise housewives all over Circleville were wearing orchid corsages today as the perfumed trail of thrifty buying continued to lead to Ward's Market at Court and Walnut streets.

Introducing his customers to a newly enlarged and remodeled store in the city's Southend, Ward Skinner distributed 250 free corsages Friday and planned to do the same during the run of Saturday's business.

A bargain soap purchase is all that is needed to get the orchids—as Ward's Market recently assured the buying public through a perfumed ad in The Herald. The flowers were flown to Columbus from Hawaii and delivered here.

A crowd of shoppers was on hand all day Friday to take advantage of a long list of bargain prices on food products. And despite the early morning rain Saturday, the buyers were out again in large numbers for the second day of the flower-scented sale.

Legislature Finishes Action On Many Bills

COLUMBUS —The 101st Ohio General Assembly on its 101st legislative day ended its work at 2:45 a. m. today in a quiet, orderly fashion.

High spot came at the 11th hour as House and Senate agreed on a revolutionary distribution system for the state school subsidy.

Instead of on the individual child, the distribution beginning Oct. 1, 1956, will be on the basis of classroom-teacher unit of 30 pupils. The cost: an estimated $279,700,000 for the two-year period beginning July 1.

Legislators, after a rush - rush day of passing last minute bills, waited quietly in the early morning hours for the joint Senate-House committee to reach agreement on the big school bill. After the compromise was reached, both houses promptly approved it.

An hour later they went home until next Wednesday, when a few will return for the skeleton "bill-signing" session. All will return for final adjournment day July 13.

BY A LAST-day agreement between the leadership of the two Republican-controlled houses, bills increasing both unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits got final action.

If Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche signs the bills, top unemployment benefit will go from $30 to $33 a week. If an unemployed worker has children, he will get a top dependency allowance of $6 a week, up from $5. An injured worker would get a top of $40.25, up from $32.20.

Earlier, both houses, agreed to send to the governor's desk a record-high two-year budget of $955,554,089. The new figure, compiled by the legislative service bureau, was nearly $7,000,000 higher than that previously announced and apparently corrected a clerical error somewhere along the line. It was some $24,000,000 above the budget recommended by Gov. Lausche last February.

Also agreed to was an "additions and betterments" bill for state buildings and improvements whose total was above $43,000,000.

WITH CONFERENCE committees and opposite - house amendments as thick as flies, legislators:

Agreed to increase salaries of state and county officials from governor to coroner, including legislators and judges.

Agreed on a 23-member elected state board of education.

The House accepted a proposed constitutional amendment setting four year terms for state senators. Senators now serve two year terms, the same as representatives.

Both houses agreed to increase taxes on horse race pari-mutuel betting to give the state nearly $900,000 a year more revenue. The increase was levied on running rather than on harness races, to bring Ohio's tax on such wagering up to the national average.

Agreed to increase the authorized strength of the state highway patrol from 650 to 700.

Agreed to give the state board of building standards authority to set up building regulations, with the force of law, and create a board of building appeals. The regulations could apply to all buildings larger than two-family dwellings.

Agreed to enlarge the state nurses board and provide for the licensing of practical nurses.

Agreed to lift the $200-a-year ceiling on health payments for recipients of aid for the aged and aid to the blind.

Agreed on bills to provide the election at a general election of fair boards in Auglaize, Putnam and Union counties.

Two more constitutional amendment proposals headed for the 1955 ballot when the House agreed to let the voters decide:

1. If the salaries of judges may be raised or lowered during the judges' terms of office.

2. If the salaries of state and county officials may be raised or lowered during their terms of office.

In this sermon, the minister will attempt to prove that prayer is not just a blank check to be completely filled in and signed by the individual; but rather a blank check that can be filled in for whatever the need might be so long as it is endorsed by Christ.

Sermon subjects for the past two Sundays have been: "The God Who Answers by Fire" and "What if God Says No?" The subject for next Sunday's sermon will be, "The Importance of Intercessory Prayer."

Mrs. Larry Graham will sing, "My Songs Shall Arise", by La-Forge, in both of the worship services. Mrs. Ervin Leist will be at the organ and will use for her prelude, "Aubade", by Savage; for the offertory, "Offertory", by Weidt.

Sermon On Stars Will Be Delivered To Presbyterians

A second sermon based upon the stars mentioned in the Bible will compose the message during the worship service at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

The theme, "The Stars Fight For Us", finds its background in the fifth chapter of the Book of Judges, wherein the Song of Deborah contains the immortal line, "The stars in their courses fought against Sisera."

The choir will sing the anthem, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled", Miss Jo Ann Brink singing the soprano solo part. Hymns used in the worship will include: "Come Thou Almighty King", "Begin My Tongue Some heavenly Theme" and "The Heavens Declare Thy Glory, Lord".

Mrs. Theodore L. Huston, at the organ, will play: Borowski's "Adoration"; "Barcarolle", by Nevin; and Alfred Silver's "Jubilate Deo", Lord.

More than a cake...

Those two tiny figures on top of the wedding cake... the bride and the groom... are a symbol. They mean that from this day forward two people will be as one... joined together in perfect unity, forming the nucleus of a new family group.

They have stood before the church altar, pledging themselves to each other and to God. Their marriage has been started in the right way, with God's blessing upon it.

In the years to come they will look back upon this day, and upon their holy moment together in the Church. They will remember the reception later when they cut this cake, when there was laughter and gaiety and nothing but love around them. When they return to their church on Sundays, they will always see in their minds' eyes to their church on Sundays, they will always see in their minds' eyes to their own figures, standing before the altar, taking their holy vow. Little wonder that the Church will always mean so much to them when they have laid the foundation for their happiness within it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GAS QUESTIONS

CONGRESS has been asked to look into the producer-consumer price spread for natural gas on the eastern seaboard. At the extreme in Elizabeth, N. J. the consumer pays $2.73 per thousand cubic feet for a fuel that costs eight cents at its source. Washington, D. C., does better, paying $1.39 per thousand for 11-cent gas. Rep. Oren Harris, Arkansas Democrat, wants an investigation.

If fabulous and unconscionable profits are being made, which is to be proved, such an investigation would be worth while. If the eastern consumers are entitled to the gas at all, they are entitled to it at a price which covers only fair profit after legitimate costs have been paid. Since government regulatory bodies have the major voice in pricing, the answer to the Arkansas Congressman's query should not be difficult.

In the long run the question will have to be answered whether the gas producing fields of the nation, principally in the Southwest, are sufficient to serve 27 million consumers in all parts of the country. The supply is limited. It may be that high prices at the farthest removed locations are an economic expression of the fact that these fringe consumers are draining the supply for everybody.

If so, that should be brought out and planning started to determine what areas can have gas with assurance that the supply will be available for many decades.

STANDING FIRM

AS THE WESTERN powers get squared away for the July 18 meeting with Russia, Chancellor Adenauer leaves no doubt as to where West Germany stands. That position, as he reiterates every few days, is squarely in the Western camp.

It is now virtually axiomatic in international affairs that reunification of East and West Germany cannot be staved off indefinitely. But whereas it is Western policy to push for reunification under conditions of free elections, the Soviet wants to barter German unity for a pledge of neutrality. This neither the astute chancellor nor his people intend to do.

As Adenauer warns, a neutral role for Germany would be an open invitation for Moscow to extend its power over all of Western Europe. Even the West German socialists, who in the past have been opposed to rearmament, have reluctantly agreed to the inevitable in order to enforce the pan-German aspiration for ultimate reunification.

With the Bonn position so steadfastly and unequivocally stated, it is hard to fathom the guile the Soviets contemplate to get the Germans to change their stand. It would seem that even Soviet promises to roll back the iron curtain to its own borders, unlikely as that is, could not persuade a reunited Germany to renounce the right to decide its own destiny.

CAUTION, NOT ALARM

CONSUMER CREDIT, which has risen to the record figure of $31 billion in the nation has prompted words of caution in financial circles, rather than alarm. Included in the total are installment purchases, charge accounts and personal loans.

Widespread prosperity, high employment, increasing wages, and a buyer's market are generally named as responsible for the increase.

Those who analyze the situation on the basis of past experience declare it represents a high endorsement of the integrity of the American people. First of all, their credit must be good to enable them to make such purchases. And because of high credit ratings it is natural to assume that those who now are buying on time can be depended upon to pay later.

An abiding faith in the integrity of the American people is a sound basis for the present increase in buying.

Few families will extend their credit beyond the ability to pay. Present regulations will take care of that. The nation's economy is geared to a higher standard of living. The more families who can enjoy the better things of life, even if it calls for credit buying, the better the entire economic situation will be.

Municipal officials are investigating the price of hot dogs at the ball park in Kansas City, instead of the price of votes.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Violent excitement is being generated over the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act with a view to having it "humanized," which is a word of emotional rather than reasoned content. The realistic questions that seem not to be asked these days are:

1. Do we want or need any more immigrants?
2. If yes, how many?
3. If we do need immigrants, what kind do we need? Shall we select them according to vocations, approximation to the American culture, or haphazard?

Those who oppose the current restrictions upon immigration adopt the view that suffering humanity must have a place to go to and that the United States is as good a place as any for them to come to. Personally, I can have no private objection to such a position, as both my parents were immigrants and had they not been admitted to this country, I, naturally, would not have been native to it. I might today be living in fear and trembling in Bialystok or maybe by now I should have been killed either by Hitler or by Stalin.

But the public position is different. We now have a population of 165,000,000. First, it is a matter for scientific appraisal, not political agitation, to determine how much of a population our 3,000,000 square miles can maintain on an American standard of living.

Secondly, it is a matter of sociological study to provide data on the assimilability of varieties of peoples in our culture. Perhaps there are those who do not regard this as important, who believe that a conflict of cultures within the United States will serve us better than the preservation of our traditions.

As all Americans, with the exception of the native Indians, are the descendants of immigrants, a vast and well-documented experience has been provided to guide our judgments. Certainly the population pattern of the United States has been radically altered since 1905.

Immigration cannot be an after-thought. Each newcomer becomes the progenitor of an increasing part of the population. The question ought to be whether it is more beneficial to include diverse cultures or to favor Northern and Western Europeans who are of identical basic stock to the early American settlers. The point might be made that those who are insistent upon planning our future reject the idea that there might be some planning about immigration.

Actually none of these questions are realistic in the present political climate. Pressure organizations exist among each former immigrant group which favor their own kind. These groups are very powerful, particularly in large cities and in politically crucial states. Also there are those who believe that human suffering should be dealt with urgently and that a theoretical discussion of immigration problems is today academic and of no value. Also, on both sides of the question there are demagogues who blur the issue in their own private interest.

The McCarran-Walter Immigration Act is a codification of some 200 laws on the subject of immigration and naturalization. It took four and a half years of investigations and hearings to bring the bill before Congress. It was passed in July 1952 over President Truman's veto.

The Quota System was in existence when the bill was passed and was included in it. This Quota System provides that each country outside the Western Hemisphere may send immigrants to this country each year equal to one-sixth of one percent of such nationals who had reached the United States by 1920. By this method, immigration is established on a cultural rather than a vocational basis. Communists, Nazis, Fascists, are not to be admitted.

One of the most serious problems that faces the United States is the illegal entry of immigrants who come across our borders without the exercise of any jurisdiction. It has been variously estimated that between 3,000,000 and 5,000,000 illegal aliens live in the United States. Nobody can know exactly. If it is possible to enter illegally and such an entry becomes legitimate by a sort of squatter's right, why have any immigration laws at all?

In a word, this is not a question for shouting and shrieking on one side or the other. It remains a problem for scientific investigation and for decision on the basis of facts. Vote-getting speeches by politicians do not help the country to reach a decision; they only serve those who get votes that way.

The Detroit grapevine reveals that next year's cars will be less gaudy and those of the following year will have smaller wheels. But buyers of current models on the 36-month plan are more interested in what's going to be new in 1958.

It's Normal for Child To Destroy His Toys

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

DON'T punish your baby for taking his toys apart.

He's simply curious, not destructive; for this curiosity is a healthy, normal thing. It's one way in which he learns. If you were a normal child—and I'm sure you were—you probably did the same thing yourself.

Right Kind of Toys

Now it's important that your infant gets the right kind of toys. Things such as large rubber dolls (yes, even for a boy), rattles, blocks and large empty spoons teach him how to use his hands and legs and help to develop both his muscles and his mind.

As your youngster begins to walk you can give him a toy that he can pull after him.

Let me caution you right here not to give your baby too many toys. If you give them all to him at once, it will only confuse him.

All at Once

Also, if he knows he has a lot of toys, even if you don't give them all to him at once, he'll probably play with one for a short time and then demand another. He'll keep you busy enough without adding this problem.

A few simple toys are enough for any baby, no matter what your financial standing is. If overgenerous relatives such as grandparents, for instance, shower your toy with toys, be polite but firm. Put most of these toys away. Offer them to your baby later on, when he has grown tired of those he already has.

Learns from Play

Your baby learns a great deal from his play. He will get much more out of playtime, if you give him the right kind of toys. Most older babies enjoy the kind of toys they can work themselves. Don't expect these things to last too long. As I said, your toy will take his toys apart. Let him do it.

Answer: If moles are chronically irritated or bleed or become considerably enlarged, they should be removed. Certain types of moles should be left alone. Your physician will determine whether or not removal is necessary in your particular case.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

JENNINGS and Flint were moving in behind their boss. A brief impulse of common sense moved Kerry to say, "Come on, Rusty, let's clear out of here. No use scrapping with him again."

"Your card-sharper friend's giving you good advice, Baines. The both of you better tuck in your tails and crawl for your holes while you're still in shape to crawl."

"I'm just a-mindin' my own business," Rusty observed to the world in general, "an' I aim to keep right on doin' it till I'm ready to quit. Anybody don't like my company ain't obliged to hang around."

He raised his glass. Close as the five of them were standing, no-one could have said whether he'd done it on purpose, or whether one of the others had jogged him, but certain it was that the liquor in the glass, half-way to Rusty's lips, suddenly splashed upward, and Wharton's face was right there to receive it.

There was a howl of pain as the raw liquor stung his eyes, and then he flung himself on Rusty, the weight of his clumsy rush carrying the leaner and lighter man back over a table. Rusty, Wharton and the table went down together. "I've got a bottle upstairs," Calder added. "Let better liquor than you'd get here or any other saloon in town."

Rusty's grin widened. "That's right friendly of you, Lon. We accept your kind invitation with pleasure, don't we, Kerry?"

"Come on back to my place, Rusty," Margie urged. "I'll make you coffee—you need it."

"Sure, honey. You just wait here while we wash our faces an' kinda put ourselves together, an' we'll see you home."

Then glaring at Wharton, he added, "and I'll be seerin' you, later, too."

turned table, Wharton on top pinning Rusty down with his greater weight and hammering at him with heavy fists.

"You near wrecked the place last night," the bartender declared. "Took the best part of the day to clean up the mess. Ain't figurin' on doin' it again."

Wharton muttered, "I c'n pay for any damage I do."

The bartender tapped Wharton with the bung-starter. "You heard me, Wharton. I mean business."

Jennings lunged at the big man. The starter described a short, swift arc, and he sagged to the floor.

"Now, Wharton," the bartender went on imperturbably, "you goin' to get up an' behave?"

Cursing, Wharton came to his feet, and Rusty followed his example. Wharton didn't look too good, but Rusty's face was a mess that only Margie could love.

Now Calder spoke.

"If you'd like to clean up a little," he said quietly, "you're both welcome to come up to my room."

Kerry hesitated. There was something about this scar-faced gambler he just didn't trust. And why this sudden interest in him and Rusty, when he hadn't lifted a finger to keep them from being beaten up and thrown in jail last night?

"I've got a bottle upstairs," Calder added. "Let better liquor than you'd get here or any other saloon in town."

Rusty's grin widened. "That's right friendly of you, Lon. We accept your kind invitation with pleasure, don't we, Kerry?"

"Come on back to my place, Rusty," Margie urged. "I'll make you coffee—you need it."

"Sure, honey. You just wait here while we wash our faces an' kinda put ourselves together, an' we'll see you home."

Then glaring at Wharton, he added, "and I'll be seerin' you, later, too."

A fist pounding on the door jerked Kerry out of sleep. He sat up and sank back with a groan. What was going on inside his skull? It felt full of hot sand, and sore as if a horse had kicked him, and there was a brassy taste in his mouth.

Miss Florence Brown Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Leland Dunkel and Miss Elizabeth Hilyard were hostesses to Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club at their home on Circleville Route 2. A covered dish dinner was served at seven o'clock to 33 members and guests.

Miss Florence Brown, teacher and former member of the club, was guest speaker at the program which followed the dinner and business meeting. Miss Brown gave an account of her travels in Europe during the summer of 1954.

With a companion, she visited in France, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Italy and England. They were met at the Paris airport by a cousin, Paul Bowers who is supervisor of music in American schools in Germany.

Miss Brown spent five days in Paris before going on to Karlsruhe, Germany where she visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bowers. She told of her meeting with the women, and of their extreme poverty, which they endured with great fortitude.

Perhaps the highlight of their trip was a visit to the British House of Parliament, where they were guests of a woman member. During their two-hour visit they saw Winston Churchill and heard him make his historic decision on the Suez Canal. Later they were guests at a tea for members of Parliament.

New members welcomed into the club were: Miss Ethel Brobst and Miss Winifred Harper. Guests at the session were: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hilyard, Mrs. Byron Gulick and Miss Elizabeth Tolbert.

The secretary, Mrs. Anna Chandler, announced that the Circleville Club had received an Ohio Achievement award for increase in membership during the past year, when Miss Hilyard was membership chairman.

Grange Views Alaskan Scenes

Worthy Master Frank Lands presided at a short business session, which was attended by 35 members, juveniles and guests. Two appeals for aid were answered.

Plans were made to serve as hosts to traveling degree work during the next meeting, July 8. All Granges of the county have been invited to participate in the event. Program for the evening included scenes of Alaska, presented by Frank Seimer, who had been stationed there with the armed forces. Two piano solos were played by Miss Lydia Delong.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the June hospitality committee, with Miss Delong as chairman.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Start Melon Patch Indoors

By DEAN HALUDAY
Distributed by Central Press Association

BOTH watermelons and muskmelons are warm weather plants. Therefore, in northern areas it is best to start your melon patch indoors.

Plant seeds of the quickest maturing varieties, and to be on the safe side, grow only the disease resistant kinds.

Melons can be speeded up by starting the seed indoors three weeks before it is safe to set the plants outdoors.

Melons, however, are touchy about transplanting. The check in their growth which is apt to result from transplanting is quite noticeable.

A "safety first" method of avoiding this sort of setback calls for filling a berry box with an inverted sod, cut to fit, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Then plant the melon seeds in the upturned sod. A sod-filled box will hold four plants.

When transplanting time comes, the sod can be carefully cut into four squares, each square containing one plant.

Still another "safety first" method calls for planting the melon seeds in fertilizer pots, which are made of manure. In these pots the young plants are fed as they grow, the roots eating their way through the sides of the pot, as illustrated.

When transplanting time arrives, the plants and pots go into the ground together, thus avoiding "transplanting shock" to the seedlings.

Melon plants should be set out in their permanent location before they have developed more than four leaves.

The Merry Mixers 4-H club members and guests enjoyed a tour of several Columbus firms and appeared on a TV show during the afternoon.

Points of interest included a large bakery, where the club members viewed the whole process of bread and donut making. The immense ovens through which the bread traveled and the icing and decorating of birthday cakes were especially fascinating to the group.

The girls were informed as to the actual cost of the ingredients in comparison to the cost of the finished products. Following the tour, the girls enjoyed donuts as a treat from the baking company.

Highlights of a behind the scenes tour of a large Columbus department store were the alteration departments, where many seamstresses worked on bridal garments, and the display and advertising departments.

Lunch was enjoyed by the group in a Columbus restaurant, and was followed by a visit to a TV show. Several mothers and girls took part in the contests conducted during the program. A total of 25 members and five visitors were present for the meeting, when plans were made for a bake sale to be held in Circleville.

Following a health program, Mrs. Ward assisted the sewing club girls with their projects. Mrs. Skinner judged cooking samples.

The recreation leader led the group in games, and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The next meeting is to be held July 6 in the school.

In Memoriam

Frances Addline Radcliffe — In loving memory of our mother who passed away June 25, 1954.

She was a wonderful mother. She lived life to the fullest. No matter when we needed her. We always found her there.

So on this day we all go out to the dearest and best of mothers who never had time to think of herself. But always thought of others.

Sadly missed by husband Cash Radcliffe, daughter Frances and sons Earl and Russell.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to my many friends, relatives and neighbors for their kindness and expressions of sympathy extended to me at the time of the death of my beloved husband, Stanley G. McDill. Especially do I wish to thank the Rev. Charles Reed for his consoling words. Also the Mader funeral home for their kind and efficient service.

Kryhoski Leads Jets To Victory

By The Associated Press

Dick Kryhoski, recently acquired by Columbus from the Kansas City Athletics, has been a big factor in the Jets' jump to fourth place in the International League on the wings of a 6-game winning streak.

The big first baseman came up with a double and home run last night to knock in all the Jets' runs in a 3-2 victory over the Havana Sugar Kings. The defeat dropped the Cubans into third place, three points behind the Montreal Royals who romped to an easy 8-1 verdict over the Rochester Red Wings.

In other games the first place Toronto Maple Leafs pounded out 15 hits to defeat the Buffalo Bisons 9-2 and the Syracuse Chiefs went 14 innings before edging the Richmond Virginians 3-2.

Minneapolis Wins To Increase Lead

By The Associated Press

Minneapolis moved 3 1/2 games out front of second place Toledo last night in the American Association race as Whitey Knokowski fashioned a four-hitter to defeat the Sox 6-3.

Bill Powell pitched over hit Charleston to a 6-5 victory and St. Paul, Indianapolis beat Denver 5-0 and the Louisville - Omaha doubleheader was postponed because of rain.

Reds Win Second Game From Phils

Nuxhall, Klu Star; Phillies Take Opener

CINCINNATI (AP) — Home runs exploded like firecrackers at Crosley Field last night as the Reds took the nightcap 6-0 after dropping Jackie Collum, seeking his sixth in the first two of a five-game series.

Two of Cincinnati's big men punched the Reds to victory. Hamilton's Joe Nuxhall pitched his second consecutive shutout to earn his seventh win against four losses. And Ted Kluszewski blasted a three-run homer in the seventh frame of the second game to boost the batting average.

Klu's home run, his first hit of the night, followed other second game homers by Wally Post, who also socked a long shot in the opener, and Gus Bell. It was Kluszewski's 22nd home run this season.

Smoky Burgess touched off the scoring in the first game with his ninth home run in the second frame, but Philadelphia waded in to starter Rudy Minarcin for three runs in the fourth.

At one time, in the eighth, it looked like Cincinnati might set the Phillies down. That was when pinch-hitter Bob Thurman blasted a two-run triple. The Reds again threatened in the ninth when Bell tripled to right-center with one away. But relief John Meyer cut down Burgess and pinch hitter Nuxhall.

Philly shortstop Roy Smalley belted a three-run homer in the opener's eighth after two men had been retired.

But the Reds had the situation well in hand during the second game when Nuxhall allowed only four hits. Wally Post opened the scoring with his 16th home run.

Jackie Collum, seeking his sixth victory, will be opposed today by Curt Simmons.

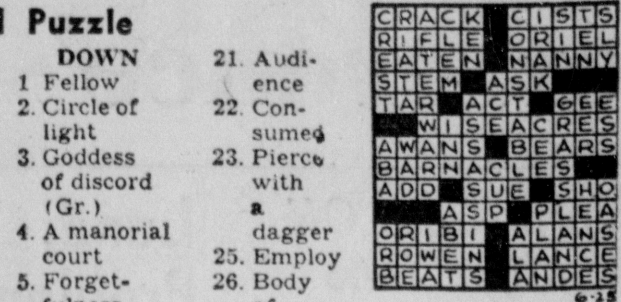

Braves Sign Salem Pitcher

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves announced today the signing of two more young players to farm club contracts.

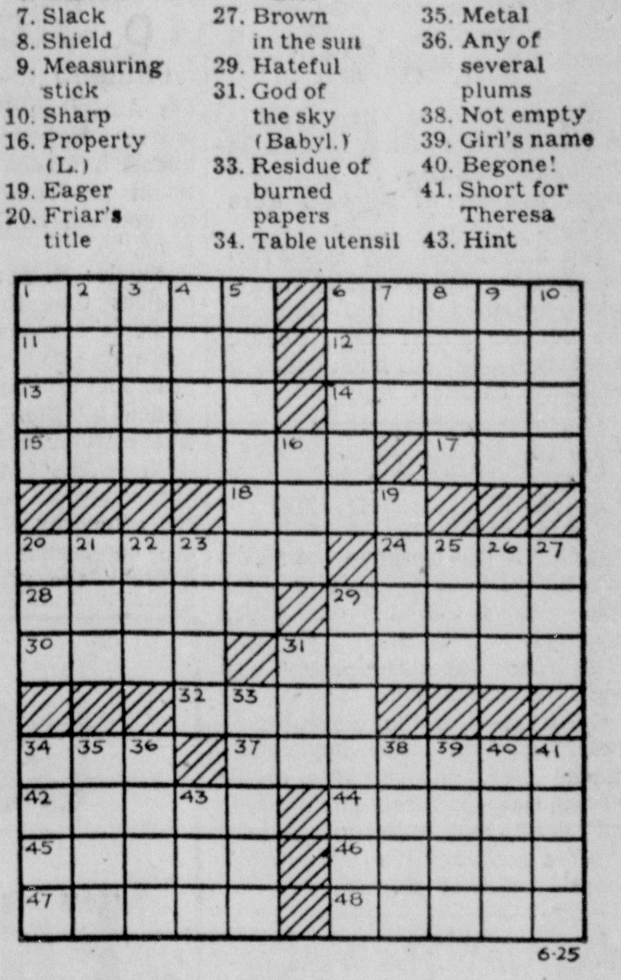

Robert Theiss, 20, left-handed pitcher from Salem, Ohio, will join the Evansville, Ind., club. Sam Elder, 19, a shortstop from Avon Park, Fla., was signed to a contract with the Jacksonville, Fla., farm.

Altitude Cuts Records In AAU Events

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — This town's mile high altitude has put the clamps on runners in the National AAU track and field championships.

After nine final events Friday only one new record has been set—a hammer throw of 199 feet 8 inches by Harold Connolly of the Boston Athletic Assn. It topped the AAU record of 189-3 set last year by Bob Backus of the New York Athletic Assn.

The altitude bugaboo loomed large in decisions by defending champion Mal Whitfield and Wes Santee not to try out in the 880 yard run. Whitfield scratched to concentrate on today's 440 yard run.

Santee withdrew from the half-mile competition to concentrate on the mile. He won handily in 4 minutes 11.5 seconds with Fred Dwyer lagging 25 yards back in second place.

Bobby Morrow, speedy Abilene, Tex., Christian College freshman, upset a veteran field with his 9.5 seconds victory in the 100 yard dash Friday.

Gregory Bell of Terre Haute, Ind., freshman at Indiana University, surprised by winning the broad jump with a leap of 26 ft. 1/4 inch.

Martinez Wins 14th Straight Over Varona

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Third-ranked welterweight Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., tucked his 14th straight victory under his cartridge belt today and went off to Camp Drum with his New Jersey National Guard unit for a different kind of training than the type that put him in shape to lick Chico Varona.

The tough Cuban, puzzled and too slow to catch Martinez, was the victim of consistent left jabs and occasional power-laden rights as Martinez won a 10-round decision in their fight here Friday night.

It was Martinez' first fight of 1955 and he made it a convincing one. Afterwards his handlers said they didn't think they would have "any more trouble" getting opponents.

Vince knocked Varona down with a perfectly timed left-right combination to the chin in the fourth round. Varona bounced up at two and had taken five of the compulsory 8-count when the bell sounded.

Referee Mark Conn took the second and fifth rounds away from Varona for low blows. He scored it 7-3. Judge Ted Shells had it 8-1 and Judge Dick Fazio called it 7-2-1.

CHICAGO (AP) — Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati and Jim Finigan of Kansas City regained leading positions today in the All Star baseball poll.

Finigan passed up George Kell of the Chicago White Sox for the third base starting position in the American League. Finigan has 379,588 votes to 364,243 for Kell.

The voting to select the players for the All Star game at Milwaukee July 12 opened June 10 and ends next Friday.

Officials Concerned Over 'Interference' On Accident Runs

Some Drivers Told That They Hinder Officers

Autos Fail To Heed Red Lights, Siren Of Emergency Cars

Local law enforcement officials are becoming increasingly concerned over motorists who continue to "run" accidents along with cruisers and ambulances.

(This refers to the practice of speeding to the scene of a known mishap—either to gape at the injured in morbid curiosity or to "offer assistance".)

Recent reported examples give a clear idea of why local officials are concerned. And some of the examples include the fire department.

1. Although a fatal accident had occurred nearly half an hour previous, cars were seen still speeding to the scene at speeds greater than 60 miles per hour.

2. A CRUISER was speeding to the scene of a serious accident just north of the Pickaway-Ross line, several miles south of Circleville during a steady rain. Although the cruiser had its red emergency light on and the siren going full blast, many motorists failed to pull over in order to let the cruiser go on.

3. A fire truck sped to the scene of a blaze. Although firemen got to the scene alright, they encountered numerous difficulties. Motorists had parked too close to the fire truck that it could not be maneuvered into another position. Also, onlookers continually kept tripping over fire hoses.

Local law enforcement authorities quickly acknowledge the help given by passersby on numerous occasions. However, they are just as quick to express their anger at people "who just get in the way".

On several occasions, well-meaning persons have helplessly tied up traffic while trying to direct it on their own—without authority of the officers on the scene.

Injured people have reportedly been moved unnecessarily by those who, according to some officials, have never even taken a first aid course. Some "well-meaners", who say they have "helped out" on previous accidents, have at times unknowingly caused further injury to those already hurt, authorities report.

THE LURE of the siren and red emergency light usually attracts many to the scene. However, few persons apparently know there is a law which forbids any car from following an emergency vehicle "on a call" any closer than 500 feet—approximately 166 yards.

In the case of an auto crash, authorities are always concerned with "physical evidence". For example, skid marks, position of the car or cars, where a body lands if thrown from a car, etc.

These may all be very important in later court cases, civil or criminal. Authorities usually try to take photographs of the scene in order to reproduce the situation as clearly as possible.

But many "curiosity seekers" often reportedly mar or destroy vital evidence—or move people and objects "to get them out of the way".

Pickaway County law enforcement officers—city police, sheriff's deputies and state patrolmen—agree that the wrong kind of "help" is worse than no help at all.

LAW ENFORCEMENT authorities ask that qualified persons report to an officer at the scene for some duties—rather than take on duties themselves.

Persons who are trained to handle traffic situations or to aid the injured are a great asset, the authorities say. The sheriff's department pointed out one recent example to prove this.

There was an accident on a county road during a rain. A crew from the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. was returning from a job and came upon the scene.

Sizing up the situation, they used their two-way radio to notify their office in Circleville. The sheriff's department was immediately summoned.

Meanwhile, the crew, which receives regular training in first aid, took care of the injured.

BY THE TIME sheriff's deputies and ambulances had arrived, the situation was well in hand.

Finally, local law enforcement officials list the following rules which they ask motorists to follow:

1. Pull over immediately when you hear a siren or see a red emergency light flashing.

2. Don't try to "outrun" an emergency vehicle to the scene.

3. If you do come upon an accident scene, you had best continue on. If you must park, do so far enough from the scene so as not to hinder the law enforcement officers at the scene.

4. Don't try to do anything—direct traffic or apply first aid—unless you have been told to do so or unless you are qualified to do the job.

5. Don't pick up or disturb anything at the scene of an accident unless you are told to do so.

Officials point out that numerous accidents have happened to persons on their way to view an accident.

Warner Begins TV Film Series

Stewart Directing 'King's Row' Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This week Warner Brothers launched the filming of its TV series, "Kings Row," part of its bold venture into the home-screen medium.

Warners, once a fierce holdout against TV, is now embracing the field with a formula that is different from those other studios have tried. Columbia has specialized in half-hour story films, as will 20th-Fox. Disney has gone in for hour-long variety shows, using old and new footage.

Warner has taken the characters and locales of three successful films — "Kings Row," "Casablanca" and "Cheyenne." These will be featured in brand-new stories of an hour's length. Thirteen of each series will be made this year, and they'll alternate in the 7:30-8:30 p. m. time slot on ABC Tuesdays.

Paul Stewart was directing the first of "Kings Row" this week. He's the actor who appeared in "The Window," "Champion" and many other films. This is not his first fling at direction. He has done several plays and was under contract to Paramount as a director, though he never got an assignment.

As with Disney, the Warners show will plug the studio's product for theaters. Between scenes of the dramas, viewers will see behind-the-scenes shots of Warners movies at work. The studio feels this will placate the theater men who have

Alarm Goes Off At Right Time

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—When the burglar alarm went off in the city treasurer's office, it couldn't have happened at a better time.

It was time to change shifts in the sheriff's office, located in the same building. So twice the usual number of deputies were around.

But they found only a red faced janitor, Richard Hathaway, who explained he had bumped the burglar alarm while getting a waste basket out from under a cashier's counter.

Trans-Canada Road Being Built

OTTAWA (AP)—Early in the 1960's you may be able to drive 4,600 miles across Canada on paved highways.

The Trans-Canada highway was conceived in 1949 as a six-year proposition, with the federal government and the 10 provinces sharing the cost. The provinces are constructing their sections at their own speed, and it likely will take at least four or five more years to wind up the job.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Salk polio vaccine program in Maryland has been temporarily shelved by the State Board and Health, which voted Friday to wait and see what develops nationally.

Land, Water Problems Up To States

CHICAGO (AP)—The President of the American Farm Bureau Federation declared "too much emphasis has been placed on the national government's responsibility in meeting land and water problems."

Charles B. Shuman said he recognizes that the federal government is responsible for providing more research on land and water problems in large areas of land owned by the government, and where water crosses state lines.

"Outside of these areas, however," he told some 100 farm leaders attending a land and water conference sponsored by the AFBF, "the major responsibility

DeSoto Hotel To Close In Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The historic DeSoto Hotel, where legend has it that Thomas Edison once had to spend the night on the floor because there was no room, closed Friday.

It will be razed and the property used for a parking lot. The big wooden hotel has operated nearly half a century.

Shuman said water legislation adopted last year on watersheds, is along the line of more local and state responsibility he advocates.
